Federal Funds Rate

The U.S. Federal Reserve cut the federal funds rate to a new target range of 0.00% - 0.25%. The Fed also announced a $700 billion bond buying program - $500 billion in Treasuries and $200 billion on mortgage-backed securities. According to the Wall Street Journal, this marks the first time the Fed has cut interest rates on two separate occasions between scheduled meetings since the Fed began announcing rate movements in 1994.

Interest Rates

Interest rates have fallen significantly since the start of the year, with the U.S. 10-year Treasury yield closing at 0.67% on March 9. Rates have backed up since and the curve has steepened modestly with the spread between 2-year and 10-year Treasuries at about 40 bps.
